

Hinckley Allen Attorneys Christine K. Bush and Craig M. Scott Recognized as 2020/21 IP Stars

May 7, 2020

Hinckley Allen is proud to announce that attorneys Christine K. Bush and Craig M. Scott have been recognized as “IP Stars” by Managing Intellectual Property for 2020/21. Both attorneys have received this honor consecutively since 2014.

Each year, MIP research analysts obtain information from thousands of firms, IP practitioners and their clients through interviews, email and online surveys. Before compiling the rankings, they also conduct independent research, including an analysis of publicly available information (such as court or IP office data) and the existing data they hold on firms.

Hinckley Allen’s Intellectual Property group delivers strategic counsel on how to obtain, protect, leverage, and enforce intellectual property rights and assets—from single entrepreneurial endeavors to complex portfolios of IP assets for large corporations. IP disputes are often settled by crafting resolutions that avoid litigation. There are times, however, when litigation is the right course—and that’s where Hinckley Allen’s IP Litigation practice truly excels. Our experienced team has tried patent, trademark, trade secret and copyright cases in courts throughout the United States. Learn more about the IP practice groups here: Intellectual Property \(Corporate\) and Intellectual Property Litigation.

Follow Hinckley Allen on Twitter and LinkedIn for the latest news and updates.

Associated People

Christine K. Bush

Craig M. Scott

Related Practices

Intellectual Property

Intellectual Property Litigation

Litigation

Albany Boston Chicago Hartford Manchester New York Providence